Mayor Gets Proposals on Equal Rights

New Civic Group Lashes City's Slow Trend

The Indianapolis Social Action Council, newly organized civic group, early this week lashed out against slow moving trends toward the spirit and fact of equality of opportunity for all residents of "our no mean city of homes" and civic unity.

The group submitted to Mayor Albert Losche a list of timely proposals or suggestions on the course of action the city might follow in implementing Indiana civil rights legislation, stressed in Gov. Matthew E. Welsh's recent executive order.

Specifically, a program suggesting four points of action by the city administration was addressed to the Mayor's Commission on Human Rights.

The Council noted that our city, the state capital, is the rightful symbol of wholesome constructive government in Hoosierland, and the resident area of more than 100,000 Negro people by the latest census statistics.

The organization in its proposals or petition asked first for a "declaration of urgency for major industrial and commercial firms in Indianapolis to voluntarily comply with the Indiana Civil Rights Act."

Another reason that this declaration should be made, according to the council's petition, is the fact that the cultural development of Indianapolis has been handicapped because the potential of the city's minority group has not been fully utilized.

THE SECOND request was that the Mayor's Rights Commission issue a "declaration of urgency to industrial and commercial firms

Victim in Car Train Crash Buried Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mildred Foster, 46-year-old Indianapolis woman and mother of three who was killed July 5 in a train-auto collision at a railroad crossing, were held Thursday (July 11) at Anderson, S.C.

Mrs. Foster, of 7409 Thompson Rd., died instantly in the crash which occurred around 8:30 a.m. at Rural and Massachusetts.

Reports indicate that she apparently failed to see or ignored flashing signals announcing the approaching 10-car St. Louis-bound New York Central passenger train.

As she drove into the path of the train, Mrs. Foster's car was struck by the locomotive and spun around twice. It then ramed into another car being driven by L. D.

Despondent Over Marital Rift; Man, 30, Takes His Own Life

A 30-year-old Northwestside man, allegedly despondent over marital difficulties, was found dead in his home, July 4, an apparent suicide.

Identified as Joseph C. O'Daniel, 2166 White, the victim was sprawled on a bed, partially covered with a sheet with a green hose pipe, one end connected to a gas stove, in his mouth.

Police theorized that the Hygrade Company employee had hooked the garden-type hose, one-half inch in diameter, to the rear of the kitchen stove, then carried the other end through the house to a bedroom and placed it in his mouth before lying on a bed.

The gas was still on when police arrived.

OFFICERS DISPATCHED to the scene about 6:15 p.m. were by the victim's 32-year-old brother-in-law, Clinton Antler, of 3277 Winthrop.

He explained that he had become worried because he had not seen or been able to contact

O'Daniel since July 1. Curious, Antler said he had gone to O'Daniel's house knocked on the door but had been unable to arouse anyone. He said that he then went to a rear door and peered through a window to discover O'Daniel lying face down on the bed.

To gain entrance to the house police battered in the front door. Two notes apparently written by the victim were found, one on a night table and one in O'Daniel's pocket.

Upon talking to O'Daniel's mother, Mrs. Nela Pruitt, 55, 2715 Ethel, police learned that there had been recently "some what of a rift" in the marriage of her son and his wife, Ruth, 25.

In fact, Mrs. Pruitt revealed, in the latter part of June Mrs. O'Daniel had taken the couple's son and gone to "visit" relatives in Louisville. Mrs. Pruitt added that she had not seen her son since

A marvelous money-making opportunity awaits any boy or girl, elderly man or woman who wishes to help service the many new neighborhoods that have been established in Indianapolis as a result of a population shift.

In each of the four geographical outlying districts there are formidable concentrations of Negro families which enhance one's chances of earning several dollars for an afternoon's efforts. Several elderly persons report that they supplement their inadequate pension incomes by selling the Recorder.

The Circulation department of this newspaper is making a concerted effort to get interested persons to build new routes in any district.

Bandit Takes $60 From Mobile Ice Cream Vendor

An ice cream vendor was the victim of a holdup Friday night on the city's Northside by a lone gunman.

David Miles, 18, 3550 N. Illinois, driver of a Tasty Freeze Ice Cream truck, reported to police that he was robbed around 10:30 p.m. by a man armed with a snub nose revolver.

The driver told police that he stopped his truck at the corner of 29th and Annette and stepped to the rear of it when a man about 22 years old wearing dark glasses stepped into the truck.

WAVING THE WEAPON, the bandit said: "Hand me all your bills."

Miles gave the man $5, but apparently not satisfied, the bandit asserted: "That's not all you've got."

After being given about $60 more, the man drove away in a car containing two other men.

Over $600 worth of items were reported stolen early Sunday from a car belonging to Pompey L. Hawkins, 45, 625 W. 39th.

Hawkins told police that his car was parked in the 3800 block of N. Illinois when he returned to it shortly after midnight and found the articles missing.

Reported stolen were three men's suits, a metal box containing an assortment of tools and several other articles.

A passerby was grabbed and forced into Lockefield Gardens Friday morning by two young hoodlums who robbed him of $10.

The man, Raymond Jones, 26, 3112 Winthrop, said as he walked along Blake around 3 a.m., two youths between 17 and 18, grabbed him from each side and forced him into Lockefield.

There, they beat him and took his money.

Armed with a knife, a stranger robbed Phillip Baine, 36, 5640 Rural, of $20 late Friday as he stood at a corner waiting for a bus.

Baine told police the man approached him about 10:30 p.m. at 27th and Meridian, held a switchblade knife at his throat, and threatened to kill him unless he handed over his money.

A 57-year-old store owner and his wife were forced to lie on a floor Saturday night after a robber had taken $75 from a cash register and made his escape.

Working on Stalled Truck; Negro 'Pistol Whipped' by White Gang

An unwarranted and unprovoked beating was suffered by a 45-year-old man early Sunday at the hands of white youths when his truck stalled near an Eastside intersection.

The victim, William Smith, of 2840 N. Rural, was struck in the head with a tire tool by one youth and another flashed a pistol in his face and attempted to fire it.

Smith alighted from his truck on St. Clair shortly after midnight when it stalled about 50 feet from the waiting auto and the car started away. Smith hurled a brick through the rear window of the car as it sped away.

TWO OF THE YOUNG hoodlums jumped from the car and advanced on Smith. One of them drew a pistol, pointing it toward Smith's face and tried to fire it but the weapon failed to discharge.

The second youth struck the man over the head with a tire tool, knocking the helpless victim to the ground and inflicting a cut in his scalp.

As Smith returned to his feet, the two attackers returned to the waiting auto and the car started away. Smith hurled a brick through the rear window of the car as it sped away.

Attacks Grad Among NSSFNS 1963 Scholarship Winners

Higher education for Negroes, until now primarily the concern of educators, idealists and political progressives, has taken a turn for the practical.

Big business, in its continuing search for administrative and professional talent, begins to look to the Negro to help fill many of the posts of the future.

One indication is the increasing number of donations by leading American corporations to the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro students (NSSFNS), according to the organization's president, Richard L. Plaut.

AMONG THE 96 high school graduates receiving scholarships from NSSFNS this year was one Indianapolis youth and four others from various parts of the state.

The Indianapolis recipient was Victor J. Highbaugh, 1305½ Edgemont, a June graduate of Crispus Attucks High School. He plans to enter Hanover College, Hanover, Ind. He was valedictorian of his class.

Others named, their homes and prospective colleges are as follows:

Earline R. Ferguson, Fort Harrison Army Base, Western College for Women, Oxford, O.; Rose M. Cole, Evansville, Evansville College; Euella E. Jones, East Chicago, Purdue; and Faye L. Morris, Gary, MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill.

According to Plaut, this year's total scholarship recipient was up 20 percent as compared with last year's figure of 77.

The scholarships, which together with college, state, local, and other assistance of $105,810, will cover total freshman financial requirements for the students, amounted to $27,000 as against $20,000 last year.

Companies participating in the gain include Inland Steel Company, International Business Machines Corporation, Radio Corporation of America, and Western Electric Company, Inc.

HONORARY AWARDS without stipend also were made to 22 outstanding students who received

Says Pace Can't Be Slowed Even For Violence

CHICAGO—A broad, militant program to fight for Negro rights in unions, government, education, housing, and employment, was unanimously approved by the NAACP at the close of its 54 annual national convention.

Field secretaries consented to the pace of integration cannot be slowed even if it results in violence.

Long known for its moderate approach to racial problems, the NAACP was feared to be driven toward a split between the "moderates" and the "militants."

The NAACP strongly criticized the American Medical Association and the American Dental Association for not having taken a strong stand against members who discriminate in selection and care of patients.

It suggested that establishments should be removed from communities which refuse to abolish color bars against members of the armed services.

A FOUR-FOLD PLAN on education was adopted as follows: (1) changing those practices contributing significantly to de facto segregation and all other discriminatory educational practices; (2) adoption of rezoning, what is known as the Princeton Plan (assignment of pupils by grades to schools combined in a single attendance area), reorganizing the use of schools and other effective desegregation plans; (3) open enrollment except where other plans can be used to achieve greater desegregation; and (4) location of new schools on sites offering maximum desegregation probabilities and to make sure that other school expansion programs provide for desegregation.

On housing, the NAACP branches and state conferences were urged to use "every possible means of direct action" against governmental and private institutions or agencies that "directly or indirectly practice discrimination in housing." These means include

Baptist Ministers Complain of 'Pushed Around' by City Officials

A committee of 10 prominent Baptist ministers met again Thursday with Police Chief Robert E. Reilly to see why they are being "pushed around" in an effort to ascertain why Ernest Mullins Jr., a white filling station attendant whom clergymen say was originally charged with preliminary murder, has been freed under a low $3,000 manslaughter bond. Mullins is defended by Negro Atty. H. Perry Smith.

The ministers contend the only satisfaction and cooperation has come from Prosecutor Noble Percy who filed a petition in court for re-consideration, although it was denied by Judge Eugene Fife.

Earlier this week the judge had told the protesting men, all members of the Baptist Ministers Alliance, that "no race issue was involved in setting a low bond on the 35-year-old white man who gunned down Samuel Spradley, 33, 21 N. New Jersey, following the failure of the slain man to pay the gas bill fast enough.

Mullins reportedly shot Spradley twice early June 23 by a series of shots pumped from a .32 caliber pistol striking him in the eye and right shoulder at the Humble Oil Company station, 1741 W. Michigan.

A spokesman for the ministers said the judge told them that "Negroes have the highest crime rate in the city" and they should be "out trying to solve the problem."

He asserted that he thought the murder was in second-degree.

Judge Fife also reportedly said he would have made the same decision had the people involved been white.

The Thursday meeting was the fourth time within a week the ministers have made a concerted effort to discover why they have been ignored.

Judge Fife had also said: "From police reports it did not sound like an exceptional case, so I granted the bond requested by Atty. Smith."

Miss Doris J. Lee, 16, of 1148 W. 25th, Spradley's companion who was struck by a stray bullet, said that she and the victim had gone to a party and as they were going home he decided to stop for gas.

She said Mullins waited on them, and upon arrival of another car at the station he proceeded to talk with the occupants.

"As Sam stood talking to the girls, the manager (Mullins) said: 'Hey fellow aren't you going to pay me?' Spradley then said: 'I ordered the gas and I'll pay for it.'"

Miss Lee said the dead man didn't speak as though he was angry but was smiling. She said that the two men were at the rear of the automobile and Spradley asked for some stamps after paying.

US Court Orders Negro Admitted To S. Carolina U.

COLUMBIA, S.C.—Racially tense South Carolina has been ordered to desegregate one of its state schools by a U.S. District Court. The order, handed down Wednesday, ordered that 17-year-old Henri Monteth be admitted to the all-white University of South Carolina.

Asked why she chose that particular school, Miss Monteth, who lives in Columbia, replied:

"It will be cheaper for me to drive back and forth every day than it would to stay in a dormitory."

No enrollment date has been scheduled yet for Miss Monteth.

Spotlight Again Focused On Christine Keeler's Negro Lovers

LONDON, England (ANP)—Still another angle in the seemingly never-ending Christine Keeler sex and security scandal, involving ex-War Minister John Profumo and her two Negro West Indian lovers, was uncovered here last week.

The latest revelation was reported to be centered on a "sordid" tape recording with which one of the West Indians is believed to be connected. It was not immediately disclosed which one was involved.

THE TWO INDIANS involved in the Keeler affair are Jamaicans John Edgcombe and "Lucky" Gordon. Both are imprisoned. Both reportedly pined Miss Keeler before she moved into high society circles for higher stakes.

Edgcombe was sentenced to seven years imprisonment after he tried to shoot his way into Christine's apartment, set up by American-born society osteopath and parttime artist, Dr. Stephen Ward.

Gordon drew a prison term for waylaying and beating Miss Keeler.

Although the content of the tape recording was not revealed, it was believed to be shocking. Miss Keeler admitted she made it when "I was as high as a kite through drink and a narcotic stimulant which I did not realize I had taken."

She added: "I must have unwound and really let my hair down. There is no knowing what is true and what isn't true."

The tape last week was reportedly in a bank vault awaiting police inspection.

Seek Eligible Negroes for Ind. 'Hall of Fame'

By OSM SPURLOCK

Who are the Negroes who have done things, who have achieved, who have been "firsts"? The Emancipation Centennial Exposition Authority is conducting a statewide search for Negroes to be featured in the "Indiana Hall of Fame" at the Emancipation Centennial Exposition, October 25, 26, 27 in the Manufacturers Building at the State Fairgrounds at Indianapolis. Indiana will be one of the few states which will have its own separate Exposition. This was made possible by an allocation of $20,000 from the Indiana General Assembly. While the allocation is not large enough to finance the Exposition, nevertheless, it gives the Indiana Emancipation Centennial Authority a good financial basis for planning. It is hoped that the Emancipation Centennial Exposition will: 1) create a new image of the Negro, both for himself and for the general public; 2) give a more accurate account of Negro history rather than the distortions which are found in most textbooks; 3) demonstrate that the total economic, political and social prosperity of the State of Indiana depends on the well-being of all citizens, regardless of race, color or creed; and 4) motivate and stimulate the citizens of Indiana, young and old, to participate fully in the total community life of their city, county and state. To have an effective Exposition is no easy task. Exhibits at the Exposition will include accomplishments in the field of education, art, science, sports, government and politics. The development and growth of religious, fraternal and civic organizations will be shown. One of the main exhibits will be on the transition in the economic life of the Negro from the early days following the Emancipation until the present time. Although many people on the various subcommittees have worked very hard, there is still a great deal of information that is lacking. One of the highlights of the Exposition will be a Hall of Fame in which Negroes who have either been the first in their particular profession or work, or Negroes who have been particularly outstanding will be honored. We are asking all the readers of the Recorder who know of anyone who is a "first" or who has particularly achieved in any area of life or skill to forward this information to the Emancipation Centennial Authority, 310 West Michigan Street, Indianapolis. The Emancipation Centennial Authority is looking for the following information:

1. Negroes who have won awards or honors.
2. Negroes who have won scholarships.
3. Negroes who have done creative work in art, music, literature, architecture, dress or other kinds of designing.
4. Negro "firsts" in any community.
5. Negroes who hold elective or appointive political offices.
6. Negroes who have any outstanding talent or achievement.

in Indianapolis to affect voluntary compliance with the Indiana Civil Rights Act in all deliberate speed." The group suggested that all companies voluntarily sign a compliance to the law and after 45 days the Mayor's Commission should make a "progress report" stating to what extent the companies intend to comply to the law. The third change sought by the group is an "executive order on fair employment practices in all departments of city government." Especially noted by the group in this area is the fact that Arthur Wake, Negro, is acting director of the traffic division. Although he has held the post for about a year, Wake has never been appointed to it permanently. The Council asked that this be done immediately. Finally, the Council asked that the operating budget of the Mayor's Commission be raised from $12,370 to $25,000 so that the staff might be expanded to meet ever-increasing needs. Added to the requests was a clause stating that reports should be made by the Mayor's Commission on the progress of integration. Mayor Losche promised to study and consider the group's request after returning Thursday from a tour of the Army's Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. The Council, headed by Herman Walker, executive director, and Rev. Andrew Brown, president, was formed recently at St. John Baptist Church. Members are styled a group of "rights-minded" local citizens dedicated to promotion of equality of opportunities on all fronts. The membership is open to any or all residents of greater Indianapolis. Offices are located at 1708 Martindale. Other officers include Atty. Willard B. Ransom, vice-president; William Porter, treasurer, and Faye Williams, secretary.

Smith H. Cheatham Honored Recently At Garfield Bapt.

SMITH H. CHEATHAM Smith H. Cheatham, recently honored by the Sunday School of Garfield Baptist Church, has long been active in his church and community. The New Garfield Baptist Church, 2964 E. Minnesota, honored Cheatham for 25 years of faithful and fruitful service as Superintendent of the church's Sunday School. He has been a member of the church 26 years and is chairman of the deacon board. In one of his community activities, Cheatham, 1041 St. Peter, is a member of the Fall Creek Parkway YMCA Board of Management. He has served in that position 10 years. The well-known civic leader is president of the Southeast Civic League, devoted to the betterment of the community. Married and the father of four, he is also assistant secretary of Fidelity Lodge.

marshes, picketing and other forms of peaceful demonstration. A resolution adopted in short said: "The events of 1963 have made it plain there will be no relaxation, no tranquility and no rest in this land until Negroes have gained first-class citizenship everywhere, with all the rights, privileges and responsibilities of first-class citizens." The consensus among nine of the 14 field secretaries, affiliates of the late Madgar Evers, agreed on the following: (1) there will be no letup in Negro pressure for equality; (2) violence and martyrdom are not sought by civil strife will not deter Negroes; (3) complete desegregation will come sooner than anyone has predicted; and (4) the ultimate aim of school desegregation is racial balance in all schools, South as well as North. The question still unanswered is how much this alleged "house divided" situation—the "moderates" in one camp and the "militants" in the other—will jeopardize not only the NAACP's unity, but the integration effort all over the country. TIME AND TIME again during the convention in this crucial period in the civil rights struggle, "moderate" voices either were jelled or went unheard. The NAACP accused members of new "direct action" civil rights groups as triggering off the uproar that drove Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley from an Independence Day rally in Chicago. Daley got only as far as the second sentence of his speech when

Meredith's 'Burr Head' Remark Is Blasted by NAACP at Convention

CHICAGO (ANP) — The University of Mississippi's James H. Meredith left Chicago disillusioned and ahead of schedule after being denounced by NAACP leaders for a controversial speech in which he referred to Negroes as "burr heads," told young civil rights demonstrators they need discipline and education and advised against the proposed Aug. 28 march on Washington.

Meredith hailed for his role in helping break down segregation at the University of Mississippi, made the remarks which sparked controversy at an NAACP Youth Freedom Fund dinner attended by 800 persons at the Morrison hotel convention headquarters.

"My greatest dissatisfaction today is the existence of the very low quality of leadership present among our young Negroes and the childish nature of their activities," Meredith told the audience.

Meredith drew additional criticism for this statement: "Any one of your burr heads out there could be the owner or manager of a large department store, president of a corporation, or even mayor of the City of Chicago. All things are possible, if you only believe."

He said it was his personal opinion that the proposed march on Washington was "not in the best interest of our cause," but added: "I want it clearly understood that I have not opposed the march."

Gloster B. Current, director of branches for the NAACP, spoke of Meredith as an amateur in the civil rights struggle.

"This is a titanic struggle and not a time for amateurs," Current said. "This boy is a student. His fight for freedom doesn't qualify him to be a leader."

Roy C. Wilkins, executive secretary of the association, said: "Perhaps Mr. Meredith ought to be forgiven, although he owes our youth an apology."

"Our youth have done a wonderful job of arousing public sympathy through direct demonstrations. He has no right to criticize their leadership as being low level or childish. He is no Uncle Tom. His judgment is bad, and his taste is worse."

Perhaps the first NAACP official to react to Meredith's remarks was John Davis, 22, of East Orange, N. J., a senior at Rutgers University and a member of the NAACP youth division board of directors.

Davis, master of ceremonies at the dinner Friday night, stepped to the microphone after Meredith had completed his address and immediately left the stage. He said he knew it wasn't proper for him to criticize Meredith's comments but believed it necessary to do so in view of the nature of the remarks.

He said the Negro youth was in the "forefront" in the integration marches in Alabama and Mississippi and therefore "It grieves me to hear that kind of talk from someone like Mr. Meredith."

Davis said he could not understand how "Anyone, black or white, could come to the NAACP convention after 54 years of distinguished service and tell you to only believe."

The Youth Division leader's remarks were greeted with wild cheering and applause.

Asked about Meredith's use of the term "burr heads," Wilkins said: "If he had been a white man, his life might have been in danger from the remarks he made."

"I thought he might have used the term in a smart-alecky manner. I saw the term in an advance text and tried to reach Meredith to ask him to delete it from the prepared text," Wilkins said.

After learning that his remarks had evoked criticism, both from officials and youth delegates at the convention, Meredith warned here Saturday:

"If we are to take on the same characteristics of our oppressors and our enemies — intolerance, bigotry, and allowing no voice to speak except those that say what we want to hear — I feel certain that our cause may well be doomed."

He said he believes, "planned in advance," because the contents of his speech were known in advance. He pointed to a copy of the speech which he had submitted a few days earlier. The NAACP had even prepared mimeographed copies for the press, Meredith said.

"Throughout all of the other ordeals that I have encountered, including the historic event at the University of Mississippi, my parents and relatives being shot at with shotguns, and one of my best friends (Medgar W. Evers, Mississippi NAACP field secretary) being murdered, somehow I was able to maintain my composure."

"However, the discourtesy shown me last night by the group before which I had been invited to speak overwhelmed me."

It was reported that Meredith, prior to his speech, had obtained a $500 NAACP life membership.

At one point in his address, Meredith admonished his hearers that the path to economic security is the path followed by the nation's founders, to work to save, to establish credit, and to invest.

"I shed my first tears early this morning since I was a child," he told a Chicago newspaper in a handwritten statement.

He disclaimed any insult in the term "burr heads" as used in the context of his speech, and said he had only complimentary things to say about the NAACP.

Standing Ovation Resounded As Evers' Widow Bravely Accepts Spingarn Medal

CHICAGO (ANP) — A slender attractive woman, whose uncanny ability to cope with tragedy borne of racial hatred has brought tears to eyes of many Americans, last week bravely accepted the NAACP's 48th Spingarn Medal awarded posthumously to her husband, Medgar Evers.

Mrs. Myrtle Evers, widow of the slain Mississippi NAACP field secretary, was accompanied by her three small children, her brother-in-law, Charles Evers, and other members of the Evers family.

"When she stood up to accept the awards Mrs. Evers received a standing ovation from the more than 30,000 persons attending the NAACP's Fourth of July freedom rally at Chicago's Grant Park."

In her opening remarks, Mrs. Evers said:

"I accept this Spingarn Award for my deceased husband, Medgar Evers, as he would have personally accepted it — with a deep sense of humility and gratitude. He had more than a strong feeling about his work and the NAACP, he loved both dearly — he loved his people, city, state, and country to the extent that he worked seven days a week and up to 21 hours a day to help America be the type of democracy she should be."

In a strong, clear voice, Mrs. Evers said her husband stood for justice and freedom for all equally under the law of man and God.

"To be fully aware of the dangers in store for you from the hands of your fellow man and yet continue with the work that has produced this very danger shows how important he felt this work to be," she continued.

Evers, a 37-year-old Army veteran, was shot in the back in a cowardly attack in Jackson, Miss., on June 12. He died almost instantly after being felled by a rifle bullet as he stepped from his car in the driveway of his home.

Mrs. Evers commented on the events leading up to her husband's murder:

"During the last weeks, although he was under more pressure than ever before, he worked unceasingly 21 hours or more a day as though he knew time was drawing near and his job must be completed."

"On the night that Medgar was killed the children and I heard him drive in, we heard the shot, and later found him sprawled near the door. We'll never forget it. But this was a sacrifice we had to make."

The fallen civil rights crusader would have been quite proud of the way the former Myrtle Beasley, his mate since Christmas Eve, 1951, handled herself at the speaker's platform. Although repeated references had been made to Evers' murder, the courageous Mrs. Evers maintained her composure and repeatedly attacked racial segregation and the nation's failure to eliminate it.

Mrs. Evers said her husband had made "the supreme sacrifice," adding: "He gave his all — his life — for all Americans."

"There are many of us who feel that we are doing fine. Many feel secure in their own little worlds and see no need for active participation. But we must realize that none of us — no, not one — is really free until every American, regardless of race or color, has complete freedom."

These words by Mrs. Evers brought thunderous applause from the crowd.

Looking back over the nine years of her late husband's work in Jackson, she said the two of them opened the NAACP office in January, 1955, he as field secretary, and she as his secretary. She recalled:

"From the very time the office was opened, he was under fire and pressure — the Emmett Till lynching, Rev. George Lee and Lamar Smith slayings, the shotgun shooting of Gus Courts, Mack Charles Parker lynching, just to name a few."

Mrs. Evers said that her husband, through the NAACP, has worked on all fronts of civil rights in Mississippi.

She said that danger and death were her husband's steady companions — companions that he learned to live with from the beginning of his employment with the NAACP. But he always took God with him wherever he went.

She said he was attacked by police dogs in front of the Jackson (Hinds County) courthouse; a judge found him guilty of contempt of court and sentenced him to prison for openly disagreeing with what he felt to be a discriminatory ruling handed down in the Clyde Kennard case, and before the Freedom Rides, he was harassed by police and allowed to be beaten by a taxi driver in Meridian, Miss.

Mrs. Evers said the family was intimidated when her husband applied to attend the University of Mississippi Law School in Oxford. She said there were threatening phone calls that came in constantly, both at the office and at their home. She continued:

"During the last week of his life he was constantly harassed by policemen — our supposed protection. They even tried running him down in front of the Mississippi state office on Lynch Street," she reported.

Mrs. Evers said she could not accept the Spingarn Medal "without paying tribute to the many people in Jackson and throughout Mississippi, and yes, the nation, who have worked, prayed, and given of their time, money, assistance, encouragement and part of their lives to help bring us closer to our goal."

The young widow said, "The Evers family will forever cherish this award and try to live up to the standards, ideals, and goals that it stands for."

The oldest Evers child, nine-year-old Darrell Kenyatta, carried a small American flag. Reena Denise, 8, and another son, James Van Dyke, 3, stayed close to their mother through most of the lengthy rally.

Mrs. Evers, with her youngest son sitting next to her, rode at the head of the Fourth of July Freedom parade in downtown Chicago.

The Spingarn Medal, awarded by the NAACP annually for the highest achievement of an American Negro, is named for the Spingarn family. It was established in 1914 by the late J. E. Spingarn, then NAACP board chairman. He died in 1939.

A fund sufficient to continue the award was set up by his will "to perpetuate the lifelong interest of my brother, Arthur B. Spingarn (present national president), of my wife, Amy E. Spingarn, and of myself in the achievements of the American Negro."

Of all the Englishmen who drink gin... how many drink Gordon's?

Most of them. And it's been that way for years. To be blunt about it, Gordon's is England's biggest selling gin — as it is America's and the world's. Why? Probably because we have always refused to tamper with a good thing. Gordon's still harks back to Alexander Gordon's original formula — conceived in London 194 years ago — so its distinctive dryness and delicate flavour remain unchanged and unchallenged to this day. Ask for Gordon's by name.

Vacationers Come and Go

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Hall, vacationing in Africa, are preparing to leave Accra where they reportedly had a most enjoyable and exciting stay. They arrived in the city at its most modern airport and were driven to the beautiful Hotel Ambassador which interior and service reminded them of the Caribbean Hilton in San Juan with its long patio or terrace and magnificent palm trees. The Hall's room overlooked a park where one could see many, many strange animals in cages.

Robert Fentress, circulation manager for the Johnson Publication Company who is also touring Africa, arrived greeted the couple as a welcome committee of one. The visitors reported Ghana has been "completely integrated" in every respect.

They attended dinner at the Star Hotel at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sweeting, an American Negro artist and his wife, who was commissioned by President Kkruma in 1958 to come and paint a picture of him and his mother and do others for the many governmental buildings.

Mrs. Hall said Mr. Sweeting is indeed a remarkable artist as well as an authority on Negro history. Dr. D. E. DuBois, now living in Ghana permanently compiling the "Encyclopedia Africana," wrote the foreword for the former's latest illustrated pamphlet, "African History," source material for those who would write African history.

The Halls dined under the stars while viewing a floor show by native (African) dancers after which all danced the "high life," Africa's latest dance, to the tune of "White Man Die," until the wee hours.

Sunday morning the hotel grounds were ablaze with multi-colored native costumes as the local guests arrived for a wedding. The gentlemen wore their striped morning trousers and cut-away coats with grey top hats.

Later that evening, the foreign minister of Ghana, A. V. Papiam-pu, gave a cocktail party at the Hotel Ambassador for G. Men-nen Williams, U. S. Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, who is visiting here and other West Africa countries. The Halls were in the party greeting Williams.

(Editor's Note: More on the Halls' trip next week.)

After breakfast Mrs. Puryear and her family formed a motorcade for a sightseeing tour of the city.

The early afternoon hours were devoted to family entertainment. Mr. Moore, a noted musician, presented a delightful organ recital in the music room of Mrs. Puryear's spacious home. Mr. Crowder, Jr., who studied in Europe and is a Chicago public school teacher, delighted the family with several renditions of European folk songs which he sang in Russian, German, and Italian—accompanying himself on his electric "stereo" guitar.

The afternoon's surprise occurred when the young pre-teen-age sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Ulmer played Mrs. Puryear's stereo Hammond organ demonstrating unusual musical talent. Mrs. Puryear recorded activities on tape.

Later in the afternoon, Rev. G. N. Hardin, Gorham Methodist Church pastor, and his wife, Marie, arrived to meet the family. Mrs. Puryear called everyone together for a prayer recited by Rev. Hardin. She is a charter member and founder of Gorham.

Members of the Hampton-Kidd family travelled here last week-end from various points for their fifth annual family reunion at the palatial home of Dr. and Mrs. John Brown and children, David, Brent, Johnny, and Marilyn, 143 W. 43rd.

After two days of fun and frolicking, members of the family voted to journey to Benton Harbor for next year's gathering with Mr. and Mrs. Lenward Hampton and son, Lenny, as hosts.

Saturday's activities featured overall fun, entertainment and reminiscing, while Sunday was devoted to a picnic for relatives and friends on the Browns' well-appointed backyard. A sumptuous variety of foods and beverages was available to satisfy the taste buds and quench the thirst of the young and old.

Motoring here for the gay festivity were Mrs. Ethel Johnson and niece, Jean Hampton, and William Hampton and daughters, Nyla and Judy, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hampton and children, James, Jeanette, Ronnie, David, Jean and Phillip, Muncie, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs.

Director Announces Annual Summer Tea

Mrs. Paul A. Batties, director of The Recorder Women Sponsors, announces the date of the annual Summer Tea for Sponsors Saturday, July 13, at 3 p.m. at The Terry Residence, 935 Indiana. All Sponsors are urged to be in attendance.

The business of the meeting will be directed toward the selection

Chatting with F.A.C.

Remodeling and improvement plans for the F.A.C. club home and facilities were discussed at length during Monday night's regular meeting. Members accepted the ideas with enthusiasm.

Work will begin this summer—F.A.C. will certainly have a "new look" when the project is finished.

Endorsement of Rev. Clinton M. Marsh to fill the vacancy on our school board was approved unanimously. F.A.C. clubs will be asked to add their endorsement of Rev. Marsh.

It has long been F.A.C.'s opinion that a Negro should be a member of this important facet of the city school administration.

Letters have been mailed inviting political office seekers of each party to be present at the October meeting for a question-answer period. The gathering is designed to help voters make proper selections when they go to the polls. As voters, it is our responsibility to put men into office who are dedicated to bringing about better living conditions for all people.

Starling W. James, F.A.C. president, is anxiously looking for someone to work with young people interested in the F.A.C.'s purpose and work. He feels young people should be an integral part of the organization to keep it alive in coming decades.

All of these things we, as a race, are fighting for now are for our young people—the adults of tomorrow. Every little concentrated effort makes for a big and lasting success. Let us remember anything that is not worth working for is not worth having. We are interested in all Americans enjoying the democratic way of life, but each of us has a God-given responsibility to make it so, Mr. James said.

Health and welfare committee members and friends will leave the club home Saturday at 12:30 p.m. sharp to go to the Farm Colony for the annual summer party for residents.

Mrs. Hattie Davis says refreshments will be served to 321 persons. She is asking everyone who goes to help with the serving and singing.

James Sanders, husband of Mrs. Teresa Sanders, 3125 N. Illinois, is home from Methodist Hospital recuperating nicely after undergoing surgery. Mrs. Mary K. Lewis, F.A.C. recording secretary, is also out of the hospital recuperating at home.

Mrs. Helen Ann Perkins and Mrs. Cora Conpton of the Golden Circle Girls remain on the sick list. Mrs. Lula Hodges asks that you please see to it that she has the names and addresses of all sick and shut-in members so she can mail them cards and letters.

This time next week the second 1963 tour will just about be underway to Chicago. The group leaves next Saturday.

Miss Mable Adele Sims of 798 King, Franklin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sims, had as house-guest last week a foreign student, Miss Esin Oguzalp of Turkey.

Young people of Franklin High School entertained 35 foreign students last week. Miss Oguzalp was given such a royal time during her stay with the Sims, she was really reluctant to leave.

Mrs. J. M. Osborne was appointed corresponding secretary for the Civic Club of Glenwood Park Resort at Mt. Vernon.

Other officers are F. Brack of Wyoming, Ohio, president; Phillip McNeary, New Albany, vice-president; Mrs. Christine Higgins, Cincinnati, secretary; Mrs. Hill, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Greene of Chicago, treasurer.

Mrs. Maggie Harris of Louisville is founder of the tri-cities development. Several hundred members and friends attended the barbeque picnic in the park at the Resort July 4.

MOONLIGHTERS CLUB Moonlighters met at Burns, 316 W. 41st, Sunday, July 7. They discussed plans for a barbeque August 3 at 316 W. 41st.

SOUTHSIDE FLORAL CLUB Southside Floral Club will have a picnic July 20 at the home of Mrs. Ethel Young, 1430 Kappes. Mrs. Jeanette Russell is president.

UNIQUE CLUB, INC. Unique Club, Inc., members are having a birthday party July 17 for Mrs. Roberta Wiggins in the home of Mrs. Lovie Phillips, 4250 Fairview Terrace. Friends wishing to send cards will be appreciated.

of the new chairman to serve for the year 1963-64. Mrs. Batties will preside over the meeting which is also designed to initiate the annual campaign for The Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund.

Following this meeting, community friends will be urged to contribute generously to the many Sponsors who will be contacting them in all areas of the city.

Dr. Guy L. Grant is president of Recorder Charities, Inc. Mrs. Batties is vice-president. Mrs. George I. Temple is staff coordinator. Atty. Frank R. Beckwith is executive secretary. George Thompson is business manager, and Marcus C. Stewart Sr., editor and treasurer.

Mrs. Batties expresses gratitude to the public for its generous support of Women Sponsors activities and all phases of The Recorder Charities service program.

NAACP Exec. Denies Split With Other Rights Groups

CHICAGO (ANP)—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, has denied that there was a split between his organization and other civil rights groups, such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference headed by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and the Congress of Racial Equality.

Wilkins said in a telephone interview that his remarks critical of the other groups, attributed to him in a wire service story were taken out of context and ignored the audience to which he was speaking.

The wire service had quoted Wilkins of telling 800 persons at a meeting in the Carver Theater at Alexandria, Va., that other groups "furnish the noise" while the NAACP pays the bills in the civil rights fight.

Wilkins was also quoted in the story as saying to his audience, "Don't go giving them (the other rights organizations) your money when it should be given to us."

THE SERVICE contended that the charges by Wilkins confirmed suspicions of a long-time split in the ranks of Negro leaders fighting for racial equality.

However, Wilkins said that he was addressing his remarks at the Alexandria meeting to members of the local NAACP. He said it was a closed meeting. It was the chapter members he was urging to give their money to the NAACP, he said.

Wilkins said in the telephone interview: "The public can send its money where it pleases. I was talking to the chapter. My talk was telling the NAACP members that the NAACP is still active in the fight and wants its support."

"THIS DOES not apply to the general public. It can buy pink Cadillacs, throw its money down the drain or do whatever it wants to with its money."

Concerning the alleged breach between his organization and the other groups, Wilkins declared:

"We're not splitting with anybody. We want to have everything clear. I came back from Medgar Evers' funeral with James Farmer and talked to the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., while in Jackson."

The wire story claimed Wilkins had said that the NAACP is the only organization that has consistently sponsored civil rights throughout the country and followed up civil rights action since the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation ruling. He was also quoted as saying the NAACP is the only organization capable of handling a long sustained civil rights fight.

"ALL THE REST start a little and then rush off somewhere else. They are here today, gone tomorrow," Wilkins said, according to the wire story.

Also, according to the report, Wilkins cited a joint NAACP-CORE drive in Louisville, Ky., several years ago, when, he said, the NAACP was forced to foot the $6,000 bill. He said that out of 287 demonstrators arrested, only 11 were CORE members.

In New York, James Farmer, national director of CORE, refused to comment on the alleged charges "until I have Mr. Wilkins' full report before me."

Dr. King was not immediately available for comment.

Despite the move by Wilkins to smooth the ruffled feelings caused by the disclosure of his statements, there was the general feeling that his speech may stir unfavorable reaction between the groups.

There has been a feeling, particularly among young civil rights advocates, that the younger and more vocal groups have forced the NAACP to assume a militant stand in the civil rights fight. However, it is undeniable that the NAACP has borne the brunt of expensive civil rights legal fights and provided legal aid and bail for all.

Wilkins himself was arrested for demonstrating in Jackson, Miss., recently, and some observers viewed it as reflecting a chance in the NAACP approach from reliance on fighting chiefly in the courts.

UN Undersecretary Tell, 'Why I Went to Jackson, Mississippi'

By RALPH J. BUNCH
United Nations Under Secretary and Member, NAACP Board of Directors

I went to Jackson, Mississippi, to attend the funeral service of Medgar Evers because of a feeling of personal obligation. I went to join in the mourning of his tragic death and to offer my personal condolences to his widow and to his now fatherless three children. He was my brother, racially and in the cause of Negro liberation. He fought and died for me and mine, to the end that I, my wife, my children and my grandchildren might live in the country of our birth and of our citizenship with the dignity befitting men and with the rights to which all are entitled, free and unfettered by the iniquitous bonds and stigma of color and race.

I went to Jackson to thank a dedicated and courageous man who died for a cause as righteous as any cause can be, and who was a hero and is a martyr in the truest and noblest sense.

To me, the trip to Jackson was thus a pilgrimage.

The murder of Medgar Evers was a foul and cowardly deed, and is a national disgrace. Had there been any conscience or sense of decency among the white citizens of Jackson, they would have flocked to the funeral service for Medgar Evers as a mild expression of their shame over the outrage for which they and Jackson must bear responsibility. They did not come. One must conclude that white Jackson of today has the morality of the jungle.

THE QUESTION in the minds of everyone at the funeral service was the question raised by Mrs. Evers herself: "Did Medgar Evers die in vain?"

The answer, I am sure, is that he did not. It is to be found in the determination and courage being demonstrated daily by the Negro citizens of Jackson and throughout the State of Mississippi as elsewhere in the country. It is to be found in the awakening of the true dimension and the moral level of this problem. It is to be found also in the fact that the overwhelming majority of the peoples and governments of the entire world are deeply in sympathy with the struggle being waged by the American Negro. The answer is firm and clear that this struggle will be won.

It would be stupidity and blindness beyond belief to the realities of this day if anyone, in Jackson or elsewhere, would suppose that the Negro today, South or North, could be intimidated by murders of Negro leaders. The only possible result of such acts will be the intensification of Negro demonstrations and to induce violent Negro reaction.

The Negro of today can be infuriated but no longer can he be intimidated. This is the lesson of Jackson and of Medgar Evers.

Social Action Group Needs Your Support

In very recent weeks a group of persons widely-known in civic affairs on the local and state levels formed a new organization here, the Indianapolis Social Action Council. Members of the new civic group propose to pursue, following comprehensive surveys and planning, a practical and effective community-wide program of civic activities.

The program, aimed towards the realization of equality of opportunity on all fronts, may or may not overlap activities of other organizations in the community. Assuming it does the spirit of vigilant or sustained and exemplary activities might be, must be stepped up. Goals of the new organization will encompass such fields as employment, housing, education, citizenship participation, public accommodations and all areas of health, welfare and social action.

The Rev. Andrew J. Brown, well-known on the local and state level in civic activities is chairman of the new organization. He is a former president of the local branch of the NAACP. Herman Walker, president of Local 117, United Packinghouse, Food and Allied Workers is the executive director. He is well known and active in civic and labor affairs of the city and state.

Other officers include Willard B. Ransom, attorney, civic leader and business leader acclaimed on the national level. Mr. Ransom is vice-president of the council. William Porter, business man, active in civic affairs of the community longer than a quarter of a century is treasurer. Mrs. Faye Williams with a long record of civic activities is secretary.

The organization has adopted a four-fold program, stressing voter registration in its initial activities, or incidental to the fall election.

Otherwise the program is as follows:

- I. To improve communication between segments of the Negro community and between the Negro community and white community.
- II. To execute a research and investigation into each specific area of concern so as to identify, refine and interpret existing problems.
- III. To communicate problems and issues to the community.
- IV. To formulate appropriate constructive programs in each area of concern.

The leaders of the new organization, resourceful or enterprising and experienced in fields of their personal endeavors have committed their talents to exploration of several unanswered but highly compelling challenges now confronting our 'no mean city of homes' and civic unity. Objectives will be pursued through educational training programs, the mass media, public forums, surveys and cooperation with existing groups concerned with similar goals or achievements.

The organization will follow otherwise appropriate "non-violent" action. The membership is open to all residents of the city who are interested in, and wish to actively support social action. The able and exemplary leadership, or dedicated membership, and the significance of objectives justify the support of citizens of civic spirit or pride in our home community.

Labor Pledges Equal Chances for All

Approximately ten percent of Negro workers over the nation are unemployed against two percent of unemployed white workers. This report was made recently at the 20th Annual Race Relations Institute, Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn. by Hobart Taylor, Jr.

Mr. Taylor is executive vice chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. He associated the higher incidence of unemployment of Negro workers with racial discrimination by employers, and an inadequate background of training for any manner of skilled work. He stressed the consequences of enlisting in fact the spirit and action of industry and organized labor to help train and use Negro workers.

We submit that the right or chance and skill incidental in earning a living befitting exemplary goals in life is one of the major problems confronted by Negro workers over our land. In recent weeks President Kennedy received a pledge from a vast group of leaders of organized labor to fight job discrimination and support the civil rights program he plans to send to the Congress.

A Five-Point program President Kennedy urged the labor leaders to adopt was (in part) as follows:

- I. Creation of a top-level AFL-CIO committee to make a massive attack on job discrimination, concentrating on 30 or 40 cities in both the North and the South.
- II. Labor support for biracial councils throughout the country, with unions organizing them where necessary.
- III. Backing for a voter registration drive for the 1964 presidential and congressional elections. It would be aimed chiefly at Negro people and other minority groups.
- IV. Giving Negro people more responsible union positions.
- V. Support for all of Kennedy's social welfare legislation. Some participants said the President took the position that his entire legislative program had been endangered by his civil rights stand.

Generally the labor leaders attending the conference with the President promised to see that their pledge to wipe out job discrimination would be honored down through the ranks of their local unions.

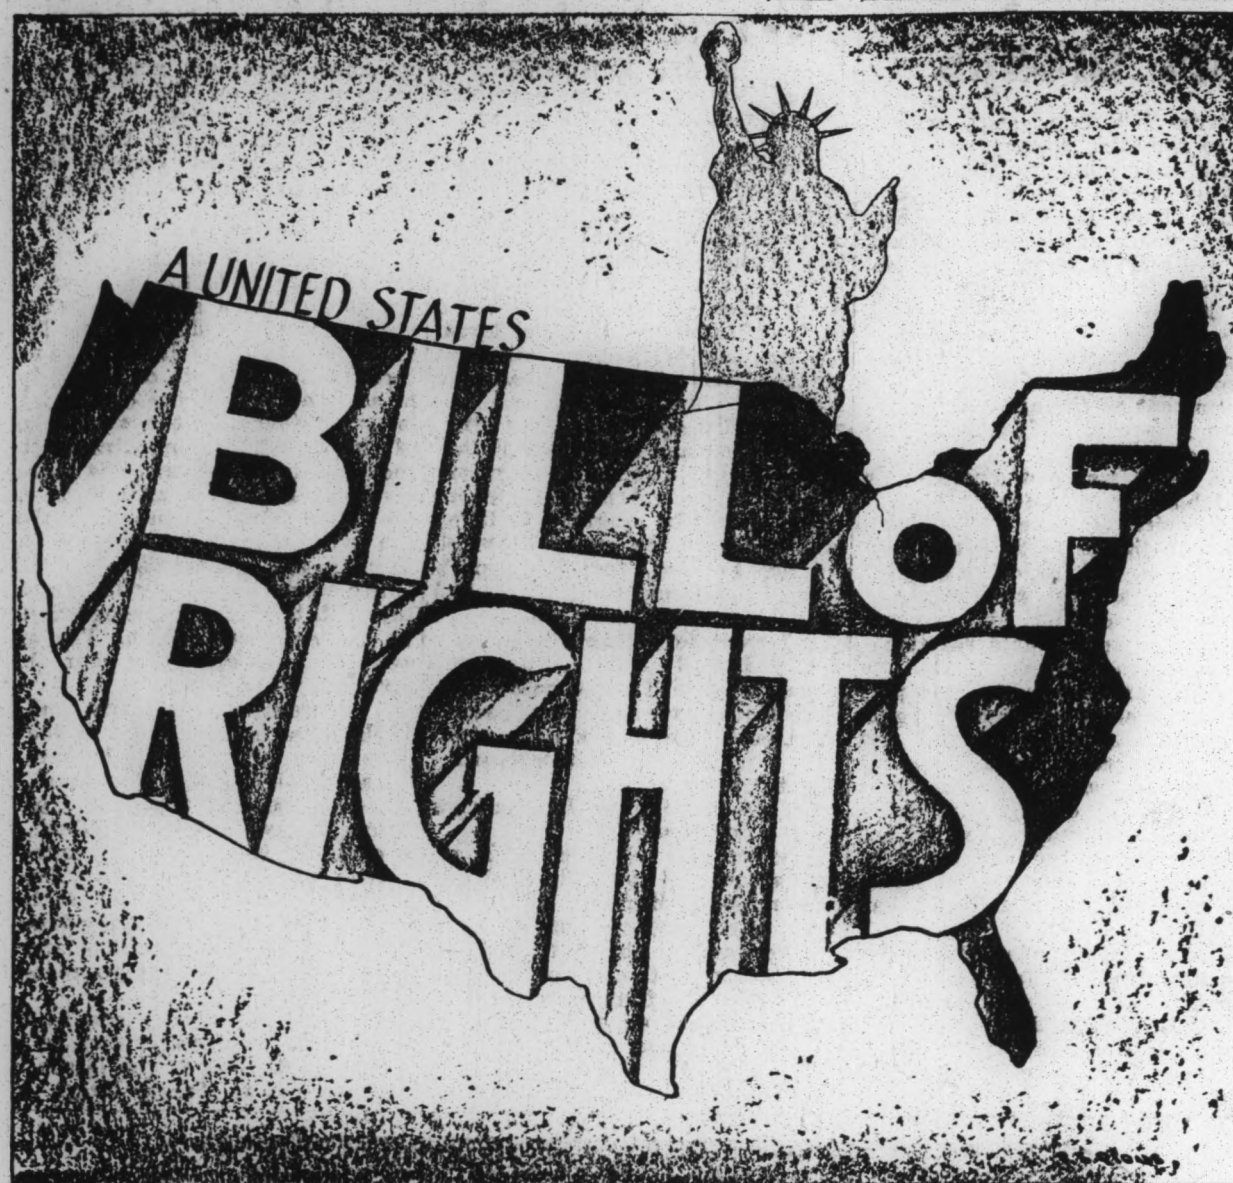

The president of the AFL-CIO, George Meany was out of the country at the time of the conference but in a prepared message he declared, "... This is no time for half-measures."

"... We can no longer expect Negro Americans to be content with a little liberty. They are entitled to full liberty, full citizenship, full standing in the community, not next year but now."

Again, Mr. Meany observed that "equal opportunity has meaning only if there is full opportunity for all."

We contemplate, he declared, "It is an incontrovertable truth that the greatest single contribution that could now be made toward equal employment opportunities for Negroes is full employment opportunities for all American."

We conclude the spirit of the pledges by the vast group of labor leaders is promising or highly commendable. Yet in some manners the same utterances have been heard over our land since the crucial days of World War II. In retrospection we contemplate his noble gestures with some misgivings, because his role in his field of endeavor transcends, or takes the shine out of the gestures "... NOT NEXT YEAR BUT NOW."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

In The Image of God

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, Editor

(Larger Lesson: Gen. 1:2. Lesson Print: Gen. 1:26, 2:1. Motto Text: Ps. 8:4, 5.)

Truly I think James Weldon Johnson's CREATION says something when he quotes God as saying in that last verse: "I am still lonesome, so I will make Me a man."

For truly man was the very climax of God's creative act. He had created earth in general, and out of it He carved rocks, rivers and other neutral necessities. He had made light, animal life, vegetable life, mineral life and earth, and it was pronounced as good. But all of this was preparatory to the main event of His creation—the making and creation of man. Therefore, we venture to survey these scripture as follows:

- I. Man—God's Creative Masterpiece (Gen. 1:26-27).
- II. Man Left in Trust (Gen. 1:28).
- III. God Provides for Man (Gen. 1:29-31).
- IV. How Faithful are You Today (Ps. 14:2; Matt. 12:26; 25:14-30; Rom. 14:12)?

MAN—GOD'S CREATIVE MASTERPIECE. Dr. J. B. Borders of the Great Wheat Street Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga., reviews all this scripture preparation and preaches one of his sermonic masterpieces on the fact that "I am somebody folks, I am somebody." And truly we are and each is in his own right. And so was Adam and Eve, for from the word ADAM (from the Hebrew language) is where our word MAN derives.

"Let us make man," says the Lord here in the text. I have often wondered what "us" He referred to but later I knew what He meant as I looked at it again in Gen. 1:26 and Isa. 6:8.

Some way there is the presence of the Trinity here in this making—The Father, Son and Holy Spirit. I am certain that the son was there for John said He was there "and without Him (the Son) was not anything made that was made (John 1:1)."

The term "in the likeness and image of God" is worth special interest here. This means the very resemblance of God—an exact copy of God.

These other scriptures hereafter in the Bible mentioned seem to say that this likeness is often marred and effaced, but never completely lost.

There are those who endeavor to account for man's existence by saying that man came from a lower form of life than the human, then this lower form from a lower form than that, and back, back, back to a mere speck of life.

They called this speck the first living cell. There are certain difficulties about this pure theory of man's origin:

- (1) Where did the first living cell come from? (2) It ignores the established fact of nature that life begets like yet in their chain of causation they have the causation ancestry of the horse hyppo, being traced back to a foxlike being with four toes hyppos (drawn horse). (3) It does not explain why the oldest of plant life appeared in man forms and orders. (4) It does not account why the vertebrates (animals) with a backbone appeared at once. They do not explain their origin. (5) It does not explain why man developed to such a high rate of existence.

But to assure us that God made man at Trinity like Himself to think, feel, and will to evaluate, compute, compare, deduct and give answers was man's capacity like God's. And also it was his to feel; he had emotions, he had capacity to love, hate and to fear. He could judge and make decisions. When man is not able to exercise these capacities, he is lost. This is the goal of redemption to restore him to his real self—to God's image.

MAN LEFT IN TRUST. "He has put all things under his feet, subdue it and have dominion." These are strong words. They are words that mean responsibility. They have punch in them. They speak to the high voltage wires, compress strength, make locomotives and make steam boats.

"Under me You are my Lord on the earth. Extract from the earth her bounties. Bring ye the Tithe into the storehouse and prove me here-with and see (Mal. 3:8-10)." The Rockefeller family started by regarding this responsibility in 1592 and have given away millions to bless the world. The J. C. Penny family have invited their employees in to share the wealth, share the work idea. The Marrott Shoe Store has a program of labor management, sharing where in all take over the material universe together.

The ultra Capitalist would see the very life out of his laborers to maintain a balanced budget if they unbalance all the little children and parents of their workers. The Communists would wreck a whole nation to get one Capitalist irrespective of the harm done to others. But the Christian must take the oversight aware he must report to his Maker. GOD HAS PROVIDED FOR MAN. The trees bearing fruit, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the air were all meat for man. And in Gen. 9:3, He does not make any exceptions.

"Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you (Gen. 9:3)." We just left our study of the Psalms and these songs of Israel teach us that God has provided for men, beasts and birds.

Then He provided beauty. I think this word finished means to beautify, to mature, to complete, to put the last stroke on. That is what God does for us too. He hangs after the storm a rainbow in the cloud.

HOW FAITHFUL ARE YOU TODAY? We are created in God's image and likeness, in what ways are we to be like Him in our daily lives?

1. We are to occupy until He comes (Gen. 1:26, Luke 9:13; 1, Pet. 4:10-11). We are to endeavor to master our own nature for the most difficult control in self control.
2. We bless others (Gen. 1:28). Remember Ira B. Wilson's "Make Me a Blessing." Choose a devoted piece of goodness you want to do this next week.
3. We share with others (Gen. 1:29, 30). Giving us definitely one of God's traits and must be one of ours if we be His.
4. We must have God's viewpoint (Gen. 1:31). And God say everything, and it was very good.
5. We have God's work to do (Gen. 2:1). I live with a purpose in my life and that is to live according to His will.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

Only In Indianapolis

By Andrew W. Ramsey

Negroes and the fight for civil rights have had the limelight in the nation's newspapers and magazines for several months now. The conflagration which began in the Deep South has spread like a wind driven forest fire throughout the length and breadth of the land.

Not only Birmingham, Jackson and Oxford have had their places in the headlines, but they have been joined by Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis.

It is beginning to look as though Negroes in the whole of the United States have grown tired of being treated as second-class citizens.

The situation looks so bad a few weeks back that the President of the United States had to break a presidential precedent and speak out in favor of those who were struggling for elementary American rights. And many governors of Northern states as well as the Governors of Kentucky and North Carolina have issued proclamations promising a better shake for Negroes.

The Governor of Indiana has also stood up to be counted among those who would bring an end to racial discrimination in America.

But in the midst of the noise of so much agitation and demonstrations, the Negroes of Indianapolis have barely aroused from their customary lethargy.

They have read daily the local papers which make common cause with the states which xxxxx the right to be wrong on racial issues. Very few have even protected the protected the thinly veiled racism of the capital city's two leading newspapers. Negroes have continued to patronize the Woolworth variety stores in spite of the fact that the national chain has done nothing to atone for the mistreatment of Negroes in their stores in the Deep South and their hiring Negroes in only menial capacities in Indianapolis.

LOCAL NEGROES have done the poorest job of supporting the local branch of the NAACP of any Negroes in any city of like size or larger.

They have stood by idly while the Mayor of the City has remained silent in the face of problems which he knows exist. They have not demanded of the City Council one iota of legislation to correct many of the outrages perpetrated against Negroes in the city.

Local Negroes have let go unprotected a hiring policy in the city and county offices which manifestly discriminates against Negro citizens and taxpayers.

They have not let their voices be heard in protest against the bias shown in employment by the public utilities. Not a single Negro is a meter reader for the three utilities which employ such. The electric utility has not seen fit to hire Negroes as linemen and the telephone utility is just beginning to experiment with the idea.

The public schools have complied only in a token fashion with the 1945 school law when it comes to the hiring, upgrading and placement of Negro teachers. All Negro and all white faculties are the rule in the elementary schools and only token placement of high teachers keeps the high schools as being teacher wise nine white and one Negro.

TOKENISM operates in the assignment of Negro licensed personnel to the Central school offices and to the instruction center.

The department stores, food markets, banks, insurance companies and industries practice racism in their hiring and upgrading policies without an effective protest from the large Negro community. Yet in a period when self-respecting Negroes all over the land are engaging in mass picketing, sit-ins, wage-ins, and economic boycotts, the Negroes of Indianapolis are as dormant as though they were visitors from another planet and the harm was being done to others.

The white community—the respectable folk, who are careful not to say "nigger" in front of Negroes and who are for law enforcement and motherhood and that sort of thing, also look on without taking either any action or any stand.

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER which can do a bang-up job in investigating the effects of Indianapolis refusing federal aid for school lunches and for slum eradication can find no time nor space to spell out to Indianapolis its racist sins nor even to hire a Negro reporter. It is making common cause with its pro-Goldwater competitors. Racial strife and demonstrations today characterize America. Only in Indianapolis can one escape the manifestations of the struggle. And that is shameful.

Reader Not in Agreement With Columnist on 'Pressure Groups'

To the Editor:

For more than 15 years it has been my privilege to read almost weekly your fine newspaper and the column usually contained therein written by Mr. Andrew Ramsey.

In every instance, I have found him to be articulate, and to meaningfully attack the various social economic and political problems which beset our people.

I am very often in complete agreement with him but I must upon this occasion register my disagreement with his column appearing earlier this year in which he expressed the opinion and conclusion that many Negro politicians are opposed to the organization of a pressure group to attempt to elect Negroes to public office because they have a "vested interest in segregation."

May I say at the outset I do not consider its records, nor, for that matter, the record of the opposing major political party perfect, either in its recognition of nor its treatment of our people—and upon every occasion when I felt aggrieved, I have so stated; to conservation of, on occasion, some of my fellow political of both racial groups.

consider myself a Negro politician, I have served the party to which I belong for all my adult life and have worked both as a ward chairman and precinct committeeman in its interest.

I do not consider its records, nor, for that matter, the record of the opposing major political party perfect, either in its recognition of nor its treatment of our people—and upon every occasion when I felt aggrieved, I have so stated; to conservation of, on occasion, some of my fellow political of both racial groups.

Mr. Ramsey on the other hand has been articulate in his grievances, but as far as I know I have yet to see him work actively in the organization of his political party. He has never polled a precinct, worked at the polls on election, stood for political office, or even actively supported a candidate.

His activity consists of setting on high pontificating upon, often without accurate information and with hasty conclusions, the vast political problems of this community, through the pages of this newspaper, and this perhaps is the reason why he and I now disagree.

I for one believe the political problems of our group can be settled only through participation in the work of both political parties.

The so called organization of pressure groups serves no useful purpose, except perhaps as a forum for a few self-anointed armchair generals who perhaps can some how solve their consciences and demonstrate their militancy for a way from the precinct battle grounds where political battles are won or lost.

The sad future about this situation is that most of the members of our race who have the time, resources, ability and education to give effective leadership within the various political parties are busily engaged in the social rat race and status climbing which seems to have affected Negro Indianapolis.

To them politics is something they would prefer not to be engaged in, except perhaps when it somehow fits within their particular personal aspirations or ambitions. In their absence, those of us who differ have to work with limited material and minimum resources—and if we have bested interests, I haven't found them.

In short, no matter how much we complain, we can not alleviate the situation which exists until all Negroes particularly those of our race who have been blessed with superior qualifications resources, and training, make their personal contribution and give their personal services to the party of their choice. If this is done, the miracle our friends want or at least talk about has some chance of being accomplished.

In conclusion may we invite our most articulate complainer to come down from the mountain top and join the fray—next spring in his very own precinct, he can serve his political apprenticeship by offering himself to his party as a candidate for precinct committeeman.

Maybe then he would be too busy to get the "Hoosier blues."

Patrick E. Chavis, Jr., Precinct Committeeman, 30th Precinct, Washington Township

To the Editor:

While they are having these world church councils, they should find a way to add a peace corps type of program. It is about time for them to bring economics into their teaching to help people take care of themselves.

Slum Clearance Moves Forward In Gary Area

GARY — This city's third slum clearance program took a giant step forward recently when the city council unanimously passed a resolution setting up a $38.2 million urban renewal project in the midtown area.

The approval authorized the Gary Redevelopment Commission to go ahead with submission of an application to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency (FHA) to secure matching funds for the project.

Known as the Midtown-West project, the effort will be spread over a 10-year span and the comprehensive plan is expected to be completed during the first part of next year.

The program, if finally approved, will take several stages since even one third share of the entire cost is beyond the present financial capacity of the city to handle.

Chester J. Jansen, executive director of the Gary Redevelopment Commission, said that it would probably be sometime in September before the federal go-ahead or rejection would be announced.

HERE WE GO RUSHING THE SEASON AGAIN . . .

OUR CRISPUS ATTUCKS informant says decisions which head basketball coach Bill Garrett and his coaching board of strategy have or still must make regarding the makeup of the roster with which the Tigers open the 1963-64 basketball campaign are nothing more than "pleasant problems" . . . But the guess here is that Mr. Garrett and his assistants will wrinkle their brows aplenty before all of the decisions have been made . . . and they'll have all their fingers crossed while making many of those decisions . . . for it's just as easy to have two consecutive losing seasons as one in this hectic and unpredictable game of basketball . . . and the problems for Garrett and his board of strategy is compounded by the acknowledged fact that most of the young basketball talent coming out of our city's grade schools is being detoured away from Attucks, a move which is beginning to arouse suspicion, especially in this corner.

THE PROBLEM IS that for the first time in many a moon attendance at Attucks basketball games last year was lagging. The reasons were many, but mainly fans were tired of spending their hard earned cash on a loser. During the first part of the season fans went along hopefully with the Tigers and nothing happened. They demonstrated their faith last year and now they want the Tigers to demonstrate some ball playing ability. The dilemma has been causing Mr. Garrett and the Tiger coaching staff great concern and rightly so because Attucks is also in the game to make money. When the fans don't show they aren't making any.

SOMETHING HAS TO be done, but what? Well, the first step is a big one for our ferocious Tigers. They need to get up off their rumps and find out what, if anything, is behind these consistent rumors that "gerrymandering" tactics in certain school districts are being used to prevent potential Attucks students—many of whom are talented basketball, baseball and football players—from attending the Westside institution, giving other high schools special advantages. If this is true, it is an odd thing to happen but there are those, including a well known and respected junior league baseball coach of our city, who believe it is happening.

COACH GARRETT, a man caught between two fires last year as a result of the worse basketball season in Attucks history, has decided to take the only course open to him, keep quiet until the blaze simmers down.

But some loyal Attucks fans, including certain alumni, have voiced their opinion that Garrett committed a cardinal sin and should be replaced. They apparently took a page from the New York Yankee's book which says, "It's not what a player did last year or even yesterday. It's what he is doing now. If a player is not delivering the goods then he is no good to the team. It is just that simple." So it is apparent, they feel, what is good for the player might just as well be good for the coach.

ON THE OTHER hand, Garrett followers contend Attucks' poor season was not the youthful coach's fault. They believe the criticisms already dealt out is too severe. When most high school coaches get in trouble because of a bad season they immediately start making a million excuses as to why their team didn't win. But not the quiet, patient Garrett.

Since he's sitting on a limb which could snap at either end, Garrett doesn't want to be forced into committing himself before the season begins. However, a hint that he is somewhat troubled and disturbed about stories concerning his future at Attucks which have appeared separately in this column is the report that he recently cancelled a two-column ad running in this newspaper—which, of course, was a bad mistake that only a loser would make . . . Because the actions and rumors reported in this column were based on exclusive interviews from competent followers who have every right to voice their opinions just so long as those opinions are accurate and ethical.

AN EXAMPLE of the way Attucks fans think is shown in the case of Ronald "Weed" Clark, a senior who was recently named governor of Hoosier Boys State at IU. Clark, who played on the Attucks reserve squad last year, is said to be an outstanding basketball player. Fans think this youngster is another Oscar and should have been used on the varsity squad last year instead of being wasted on the reserve squad. What they wanted to know is why Garrett never used him. Of course, if he's that good he certainly could have helped the Tigers because one thing Attucks didn't have last year was someone with the ability to inspire the team when those clutch moments came.

We've never seen this boy Clark but he certainly does come highly recommended.

IT IS DIFFICULT to think of a single argument in Attucks' favor that stands up, except perhaps that many of us have enjoyed watching their basketball games in the past. We should be looking forward to seeing many more of them in the future, but we shouldn't be very proud of them if they should duplicate their efforts of last year when we consider that they had everything but a desire to win. You will hear it argued that they didn't have the material. Foolishness. They had just as much, perhaps more, than any other high school team in the state.

What will make the fans return to the Tigers' corner? A good, solid basketball team, naturally, or else the Tigers won't collect a big enough crowd to fill their own gym.

Liston - Patterson Fight Won't Last 5 Rounds: Reilly

By SPEED REILLY
Sports Editor
Las Vegas Boxing Magazine

LAS VEGAS—On July 22, Charles Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson meet in a scheduled 15-round rematch for the world's heavy crown, but according to word from Las Vegas the July 22nd bout won't last five rounds.

"The way I see the fight, it'll just be a repeat of the first fight (Liston KO'd Patterson in the first round in Chicago) and people will be disappointed after paying $100 for a ticket," declares Jackie Fields, the one-time world welterweight champ, who now serves as an executive of a major hotel on the strip.

Fields and others say they had hoped the heavyweight title fight wouldn't come here. "All it's going to do is make people sore at Vegas," Fields said.

"People who come here demand the best and get it; but I can't see them getting any value from this fight."

LISTON IS JUST too strong for Patterson, says Fields. Proponents for the fight like Ash Reznick, sports director of another hotel on the strip where Liston will train, says, "It'll be a different fight than the first one."

Reznick feels that if Patterson gets by the first two rounds it will be a hard-fought fight. The bookmakers downtown seem to agree with Fields and the opposition. They've got Liston posted 5-1, and will give 6-5 the fight won't go past 4½ rounds.

COLION CHANEY:

"The Commerce Comet" Recalls His Narrow Miss At Joe Louis

By RON WOODS

There sat Colion Chaney, once the third-ranking contender for Joe Louis' heavyweight crown. The dimpled smile was the same, but there was a small touch of grey at the temples.

Physically he appeared well, although as Chaney admitted, "I'm weighing close to 200 pounds now."

The man who lost a shot at the title, because of a bitter rivalry between Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott, is now 40 years old. Gone are the days of the parasites and the big money and much of the recognition that goes to those who are at the very top of the pile.

However, for Colion Chaney, now a veteran patrolman on the Indianapolis Police force, there is no bitterness.

"Maybe I didn't get a shot at the title," Chaney was saying. "But I know I've had my share of thrills and excitement."

EVEN THOUGH HE doesn't make the big money that goes to those who excel in the ring, Chaney still lives comfortably with his charming wife, Geraldine, and three children, Patrick, 7, Gerald, 6, and Coleen, 20 months, at 3303 E. 31st.

Presently the former boxing great began reminiscing the day long ago when he had his first professional fight in which he and a young Al Sheridan, also a member of the Indianapolis police force, fought 10 terrible, bloody rounds to a draw.

"That first fight was one I'll never forget," Chaney related. "I was only 23 years old then."

More fights came to Chaney, of course, after his impressive first showing as a professional heavyweight. Chaney, fighting superbly, began to quickly batter down opponents after opponent and the crowds never cease to marvel at his tigerish ferocity.

It was in 1947 when people in the boxing world really began to take notice of the young Commerce, Ga., slugger. Chaney had said that he had been nicknamed "Champ" by the people in the fight world, but we'd like to refer to him in this article as "The Commerce Comet" because from here on in his career orbits.

And Kid Edwards, Chaney's old trainer who will always rate as one of "The Comets" favorite people, said: "Yes, this was the beginning of a very successful career for Colion. He was big and strong, and he had the makings of a champ."

THE COMMERCE COMET had already disposed of Moose Brown of Pittsburgh, who was ranked No. 2 in the light-heavyweight division and Clayton World, who was ranked No. 5 in the heavy-weight division.

Not long after his victory over Clayton World, Chaney signed to fight Lee Omo at the Outdoor State Arena in Milwaukee. Omo, a Detroit boxer, was fresh from a stunning upset victory over Lighthweight champion Gus Lesnevich, who was knocked out in the third round at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Chaney was a hungry young man of 24, Omo a rather complacent 30, and stunned almost as soon as the action started by Chaney's tornado-like attack. The Commerce Comet gave a magnificent account of himself and won over Omo by a unanimous decision.

BLINKY PALERMO, at that time the manager of Lightweight champion, Ike Williams, bought Chaney's contract and promised to get him a shot at the title. Chaney packed his bag and followed Palermo to Philadelphia.

"I immediately went into training because they told me I would have to fight Jack Buddy Walker, the No. 5 ranked heavyweight. At that time (1948) Jersey Joe Walker was the No. 1 challenger to Louis' crown. Eventually, I fought Walker and knocked him out in two rounds at the Philadelphia Arena," Chaney recalled. Soon after the Walker bout Chaney was paired against Lou Nova, a high-ranking veteran of the ring who inflicted such severe punishment upon the stout-hearted-but-less-experienced Chaney that the "Commerce Comet" couldn't answer the bell for the fifth round. Walker won by a TKO.

Chaney candidly and logically explained:

COLION CHANEY
"The Commerce Comet"

"I guess I just forgot to duck." The year was still 1948; the place, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Chaney was to fight Sid Peak, a bruising heavyweight, for the vacant Indiana heavyweight title. Peak, incidentally, was also the No. 3 ranking heavyweight contender. Peak simply was incapable of stopping the onslaught of Chaney's hard jabbing and lost a unanimous decision. Now Chaney not only was recognized as the Indiana champion, but also gained the No. 3 ranking to Louis' crown.

Seldom has it been pointed out that Chaney was the who who ended Willie Barrow's streak of 11 straight knockouts.

Barrow, a Cincinnati boy, is a cousin of Joe Louis. In the eighth round of that fight Barrow hit Chaney with a stiff right that "almost unjointed my jaw." But Chaney came back in the ninth, ducked a left jab, threw a right cross of his own, threw another right on the chin, buckling Barrow's knees. A left to the liver, and a right cross to the chin, dropped Barrow to the canvas. Chaney floored Barrow four more times in the ninth before he KO'd him.

"My fight with Barrow was the hardest one of my career," Chaney related. "He was probably the hardest puncher in boxing."

Unfortunately, however, for Colion Chaney, Willie Barrow was as close as he was to get to Joe Louis.

AFTER THE BARROW fight Chaney was all set—at a crack he thought he was—for a crack at the title. The top contenders were lighthweight Ezzard Charles and heavyweights Jersey Joe Walcott, Lee Savold and Chaney. Savold had previously been badly beaten by Australian heavyweight champion Al Hoosman in a 1947 Madison Square Garden bout. In that same year Chaney easily whipped Hoosman in a 10-rounder at J. D. Turner Arena in Washington, D.C.

"I gained recognition for a shot at Louis' title alright," recalled Chaney. "But the most discouraging thing happened—Joe Louis retired, leaving the title vacant."

This meant the process of elimination. Unfortunately, it also meant the end of the road for the Commerce Comet . . . for Chaney was nosed out of contention by the more popular Ezzard Charles, who signed to fight Jersey Joe Walcott for Louis' vacant throne. Chaney revealed that after the first Walcott-Charles bout—which Continued on Page 13

Shed No Tears For Jim Ligon

(A SPORTS EDITORIAL)

A Circuit Court judge in Kokomo Monday sentenced a 19-year-old former high school basketball star to a 1-5-year term in the Indiana Reformatory for sexually assaulting a 13-year-old girl. The 19-year-old had also allegedly assaulted a 17-year-old girl but this case did not come before the courts.

The judge told the former star upon sentencing him "Society has been especially good to you, but you have violated the law of God and man. You had received fame and recognition in a very short period, and young persons had looked up to you as a symbol of hope, but you have taken that hope from them."

Shed no tears for Kokomo's Jim "Goose" Ligon. For the crime which he has committed is truly both sinful and ungodly, and the affects of his act will long bring shame and hurt to his poor mother and all those who looked up to and respected him both as an athlete and a gentleman.

Yet, this unfortunate incident does not only reflect upon the family of this man or his friends, but rather it reflects upon the whole of Sports, which was good to him, and his race which, at one time, was proud to claim him as its own.

Ligon, by his own actions, has proven that he is unworthy of the respect and admiration showered upon him by a generous society. But perhaps his case can be used effectively as a clear warning to others who may chance to follow in his footsteps.

For there is no prospect that any good can result from this type of foolishness. The fact is it can only lead to one's own destruction.

The athletes of today—and those of tomorrow—would do well to look to Jim "Goose" Ligon as a prime example of a man who chose to destroy himself.

Al Downing Makes It Big With The Yanks

By A Staff Reporter

Although 22-year-old Al Downing has only been with the New York Yankees a little over a month, this quiet, unassuming youngster is creating a loud noise among Yankee followers and brass who have taken notice of his great potential.

Young Downing is making a determined bid for the No. 1 slot on the Yankee pitching staff this season and doesn't care who knows it.

Downing, a left handed rookie brought up from Richmond, pitched one of the most brilliant games in the majors this season as he struck out 14 batters while leading the Yankees over the Cleveland Indians in a game last week won by New York 11-6. He was only one short of the New York club record of 15 strikeouts in a game, and only 14 short of tying the major league record of 18 strikeouts in a single game.

Only a week before the Cleveland game Downing had struck out 10 Chicago White Sox while pitching a 3-0 one-hitter against that club.

AT CLEVELAND, a crowd of 57,621, largest in the majors this season, saw Downing fail to allow a hit until the fourth inning when the Indians' Max Alvis hit his 10th home run. In the next inning Willie Tasby connected for a solo homer.

Downing, who has a 4-1 record for the season, gave up only six hits although he had to be relieved in the eighth inning during

DEAN MOORE'S PIECE: We hope you read the very Rev. Paul Moore Jr.'s piece on History of Negro Struggle in Monday's News. It traced the Negro back 350 years in this country and in Africa. Dr. Moore gave credit to Lerone Bennett Jr. of Ebony Magazine for information from his book "Before the Mayflower" which was published in installments in that magazine. If you haven't read Dr. Moore's article, we suggest that you get a copy of the News of Monday, July 8. It will be worth your time and effort. The good Dr. handles his subject well and includes those Negroes who have made a contribution to our way of life. He mentions Crispus Attucks, Negroes in the Revolutionary War, P. B. S. Pinchback, Congressman Robert Elliot, U. S. Senator Blanche K. Bruce, Booker T. Washington, Marcus Garvey, A. Philip Randolph, W.E.B. DuBois and the Rev. Martin Luther King. He closed his piece with these words:

"The Negro people are in the streets and they will not get off the streets until a breakthrough for which they have waited 350 years has been made. And what is there for the white man to do? What is there for the Christian to do?"

"In the words of the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church, 'We must support and strengthen their protest in every way possible, rather than give support to the forces of resistance by our silence.'"

MEREDITH: Methinks that James Meredith is due a lot of respect for his courage and determination to enter the University of Mississippi. . . But we can't go along with him so long as he chooses to call young Negroes "burrheads" and take the attitude of teacher instead of student. Like so many other "Johnny-come-late-lies" he too, could be seeking the limelight. You know they are springing up every day. . . It seems that everybody wants to be a leader. Even here in Naptown they are springing up all over the place and are being called "LEADERS" by the white press. We hope this is not the intention of Mr. Meredith, who is supposed to head a million dollar educational foundation.

We go 100 per cent for some of the things Meredith said at the N.A.A.C.P. convention dinner in Chicago. . . especially these two paragraphs:

Must Establish Credit

Meredith admonished his hearers that the path to economic security is the path followed by the nation's founders, to work, to save, to establish credit, and to invest. Meredith said he learned thrift from his father, who never earned enough in one year to be required to pay an income tax, yet he was the first member of his family to become a land owner.

"Back in 1958, at the age of 25, I completed my seventh year of military service. My pay was then $180 a month, the highest I had ever received, yet up to that time I had bought and paid for two cars and one truck, two farms and the house in which I was living. Literally, I could account for at least nine out of every 10 dollars I had ever made."

He urged Negroes to husband their money by careful purchasing, and by eliminating unnecessary expenditures.

Urges Impression on Banker
"What you are really trying to do is impress the banker. Because one day you are going to want to make a loan, and when you apply for a loan the first thing the banker is going to do is check your savings record to see how regular you are."

"Next, to build a good credit rating, buy something on credit, even if you have the cash to pay immediately."

"This might sound childish and like fancy to you. I hope not. I have never been more serious in my life. These (techniques) have all been tried by me and worked."

Meredith, upset by the criticism, said yesterday he had been misunderstood.

"I wasn't able to sleep all night. I shed my first tears since I was a child over the reaction of the youth conference," Meredith said in a hand-written statement.

MAYOR DALEY: From what we have heard about Chicago's Mayor Daley. . . we are at a loss to understand why he was heckled as he rose to speak at a N.A.A.C.P. rally in Grant Park at the conclusion of a freedom march led by Daley for 3½ hours. From the way we get it—Mayor Daley is loved and respected by the majority of Negroes living in Chicago. . . and as an invited guest at the meeting should have received courteous treatment. We don't go along with Mayor Daley when he blamed Republicans for the heckling. We don't condone

The Contours singing group is conjuring up a lotta talk among local music buffs as their forthcoming date draws near. And rightly so, because these boys are good, real good, and will prove it to the Naptown public when they appear with their orchestra at the R.C.A. Hall on Saturday nite, July 13, for a dance being sponsored by the popular Defiants Club. Hours are from 9 till 1 A.M.

About three years ago, four of the boys, Gordon, Hogg, Billingslea and Potts, formed a vocal group. The fifth man, Hubert Johnson, was found when he ran into one of the boys while both were job hunting. Johnson turned out to be the connecting link to the group's first audition with Berry Gordy, Jr., president of the Motown Record Corporation.

Though the group practiced hard and rehearsed long hours to polish the act, their beginning auditions were not promising. But convinced of their talent, the Contours called upon a distant cousin of Johnson's to listen to their sound. The "distant cousin" turned out to be popular recording star Jackie Wilson, who called Motown chief Berry Gordy to urge him to work with the group.

The Contours' first release was "Whole Lotta Woman" on Motown. About six months ago, guitar player Huey Davis was added to the act, and their current wax spinning on the Gordy label has proved to be the Contours' key to recording success.

Their hottest record to date is "Do You Love Me," plus "Shake Sherry," "You Better Get in Line," "You Get Ugly," "Pa I Need a Car," and many others. Advance tickets for this attraction are now on sale at the Douglas Pharmacy, J & R TV and Hi Fi, and all Barbecue Heavens.

William Holden Stars in "The Lion" Which Starts Sunday at the Walker

William Holden, rugged star of 20th Century-Fox's "The Lion," arriving Sunday at the Walker Theater, is a man who is attracted to danger and who will try anything once. His co-stars in this Cinema-Scope-DeLuxe Color Samuel G. Engel drama, filmed on location in Africa, are Trevor Howard, Capucine and 12-year-old actress Pamela Franklin.

Holden's activities have run the gamut of flying planes, driving fast cars and boats, hunting dangerous game. In Africa, lion taming while filming his current attraction, bronco-busting, bulldogging steers and soldiering. His next "hobby" will be parachute jumping.

"We only live through life once," explains the actor, "and I want to see and hear and feel and smell as much of it as I can."

On the set of "The Lion," Holden worked closely with young of her on-screen scenes with 550 Pamela Franklin, who shares most pound lion, Zamba; Holden's presence gave the child star additional confidence.

He has always done his own stunts in films. In his latest effort he climbs over the back of a speeding jeep to release a trailer. Years ago, when he made "Picnic," Director Joshua Logan wanted to use a double for a scene where the hero jumps aboard a moving train. In order to convince Logan that he could do it himself, Holden jumped out the window of the director's eighth floor suite and caught the window sill in flight.

Jack ("Sons and Lovers") Cardiff directed "The Lion," based on the best-selling novel by Joseph Kessel.

MATHIS PLEDGES RIGHTS CONTRIBUTION

CHICAGO (ANP) — Singer Johnny Mathis has joined the long list of Negro entertainers contributing financial aid to the civil rights fight. Mathis, guaranteed $20,000 for July 19-20 appearance at Chicago's McCormick Place, will donate half of his fee to the NAACP and Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

TREVOR HOWARD AND CAPUCINE are husband and wife whose lives are altered by the strange powers of Africa in 20th Century-Fox's Cinema Scope-DeLuxe Color adventure, "The Lion," co-starring William Holden, the Samuel G. Engel production opens Sunday at the Walker.

Local Nite Spots Featuring Snappy Entertainment

PLACE TO PLAY: Something new has been added at the Place To Play, musically speaking—that is, and the new musical attraction is none other than the swinging Walker Trio, a red hot band direct from Cleveland, Ohio.

Your host James McQueen has come up with something new... a singing hostess... and a real good one. Her name? Mary Anderson from San Francisco, Calif. The Gal has a good and cheery disposition and has already sold herself to the Naptown public.

Be sure and dig this gal along with Lonnie Walker, the rootin' tootin' sax man who literally makes his horn shout. The boy is terrific... and the band really jumps! This boy on sax is just too much... and Ted Walker on organ is just what the doctor ordered. These boys will be blowing like mad at the Saturday afternoon matinee.

CACTUS CLUB: This popular northside play spot continues to attract patrons from all round the town with the music of Pooky Johnson and his quartet every Friday and Saturday plus a Platter Party every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Dig the sizzling sounds of Pooky and the gang every week end.

CLUB 16: The sensational Princess Liela, exotic Arabian dancer, is presently appearing every Thursday, Friday and Saturday with Sy (Floor Show) Jones plus that dynamic singing hostess Helen Ann Lewis. Our own Four Sounds rocks the joint every Friday and Saturday. All of this good and wholesome entertainment awaits you at this Northwestern Avenue drinkery. Here's a good opportunity to give your patronage... and they'll certainly appreciate it.

40 ST.: This far northside rendezvous offers sharp and groovy entertainment every Friday and Saturday in an air-conditioned atmosphere. The management welcomes you and your friends to come out and meet the gang and enjoy the fine entertainment.

JIM'S BARBECUE: For that good southern cooked barbecue why not try Jim's Barbecue at 2405 N. Harding St. This was formerly Sam's Bar-B-Q, which was known all over the city for the best in barbecued meats... and the new owners are dishing out the same fine service plus the tasty barbecue.

should hang his head in shame. This sort of thing... and who... ever was responsible for it. This goes for those who caused the heckling of Dr. J. H. Jackson, president of the 5,000,000-member National Baptist Convention, U.S.A. Whether we agree with these people or not... they do have a right to their opinion... and that goes for Meredith and a few others.

BASEBALL: The Indianapolis Clowns and the Brooklyn Stars clash in a Negro American League game at Victory Field Friday night... and you and you are invited to come out and join the crowd. Also visit relatives in Tennessee.

WHAT'S THIS: Ted Knap in his column, Ted Knap's Washington, heads his piece with this statement: "With Goldwater up there, (meaning at the head of the ticket) the GOP might even recapture the office of governor and all those 2 per cent contributions. Isn't that more important than being morally right on civil rights?"

NOTE: The following piece is a clip from a column in a Sunday paper:

THE HIGH CAST OF COLOR
FOUR NEGROES entered a workingman's tavern on the Southeast Side last week and ordered a beer apiece.

"That will be $2 each," said the waitress.

"Fine," replied a spokesman for the four. "Just give us a receipt showing we paid $2 for one bottle of beer."

The waitress huddled with the bartender and returned, saying, "How about 60 cents?" The Negroes again requested a receipt. "Oh, hell, give it to them for 30 cents," ordered the bartender. State law forbids charging different prices to different people. Negroes know this, and asking for a receipt is their way of seeking equal treatment.

INTERMARRIAGE: National-ly-known soprano Grace Bumbry and German tenor Erwin Andreas Jackel were married at Lugano, Switzerland. Other top personalities married to white men include: Lena Horne, Mattawilda Dobbs, Pearl Bailey, Eartha Kitt, Dorothy Dandridge (who is having financial troubles) and others.

SUNSET DANCERY: The Sunset management announced this week, that beginning Sunday, there'll be an Old Settlers Dance every Sunday night... and you are invited to come out and enjoy a waltz, two-step, schottische or modern day dances. Good order is guaranteed at all times. And don't forget the Friday and Saturday mission charge.

$3,000 Bond: The people should be up in the air about the $3,000 bond placed on the white man who killed a Negro in a filling station on W. Mich. We hope by the time you read this the station attendant will be back in jail where he belongs on a murder charge. And to think, Jesse Battles is being held on $30,000 bond for sexual relationship with an alleged 16-year-old white girl.

Sewel Davidson and Jacques Durham are also being held on much higher bonds in connection with the same girl mentioned above... What goes on here?

ON SICK LIST: Sarah (Skippy) Childs is confined in General Hospital awaiting surgery. Friends are invited to call by phone: ME. 2-0719 or in person. Martin (Big Baby) Douglass returned home Wednesday from Methodist Hospital, where he underwent surgery. We talked to him by phone the other day and he said he was feeling fine.

The People I Meet

By BARON HARRIS

NEW YORK—The Tan Folk Are Rioting In Harlem. Several weeks ago writer BEN HOLMAN, who wrote an expose (supposedly) about the Muslims, was beaten by a group of Tan folk while a rally went on at 125th and Seventh Avenue in the cause of freedom. Three of these corners are kept busy and congested by sidewalk orators who are constantly berating Mr. Charley because of his treatment of tan folk. The other night the corners were quite congested, so much so that when the police tried to clear the corner in order for folks to pass several rebelled and then the police went to work with their billy sticks. One man, just out of the hospital, came out of the Alhambra theatre, saw the crowd and walked in that direction to see what was happening. Quicker than you can say scat he found himself being hit on the head by policeman's 'billy stick' and on his way back to the hospital with 'a split open head'. That goes to show that when masses of tan folk are involved Mr. Charley will hit anyone over the head and this regardless of whether or not the person has done anything. Most of the 'foot patrolmen' in Harlem are ofay and they do not travel in twos. They travel in groups of five and seek out other fun spots in the ghetto called 'Harlem'. As we write this copy we have been at our new downtown address for a week. Since we are involved in a new venture it puts us closer to our stick. More about that later. A name singer who has played Naptown many times has proved to us that a junkie will do anything without regard to who it might hurt. This female revealed us of our coat that had all of our identification in a billfold in an inside pocket. And this was done after we had run several errands for her because she had a bad leg and couldn't go for herself. Many times she promised to return our belongings but never did so. We have ceased to try to collect our belongings but find solace in the fact that every day that she lives she has to shoot narcotics into her arm in order to feel normal while we feel good every day and have no need for the 'junk'. It's not necessary to call her name. She's big, fat, a grand liar, a good singer and we refer to her as 'The Big M'. What fools some mortals be. Well, the time is close at hand when that handsome musclem, HAROLD POOL, will be heading toward the Mr. America wars and we think he will win first prize this time. He's a hard worker, a deserving fellow and we certainly wish him luck. If he wishes to write to us we are entrenched in The Belvedere Hotel, 319 West 48th Street, Suite 1220 and our phone number is Circle 6-9100. We think he owes us a letter and has for a long time. How about that, Harold? LLOYD PRICE seems to be having trouble getting a new hit after having had five in a row. It is rumored that his manager told the 'powers that be' that they were no longer needed, this when the bucks were rolling in. Now it seems that the worm has turned so it doesn't pay to burn your bridges.

A New York nite club on west 46th street just off Broadway named THE SWEET CHARIOT features Gospel singing only and BIDDIE WOODS who is DAMITA JO'S HUSBAND is one of the three co-owners. They are in for some competition 'cause another club named THE EIGHTH WONDER will dress their waitresses in. May be they'll be the same only shorter. Well it's that time and our vacation from you has been well spent. We promise not to stay away so long again but we still long for the wide open spaces way out west in sunny Cal. where our favorite best is located. We wonder if it's the same Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood, U.S.A., the city of make believe.

Johnson-Willard Fight Promoter Dies in Surgery

NEW YORK—Tex O'Rourke, a colorful sports figure and the man who trained Jesse Willard for the heavyweight fight in which he won the title from Jack Johnson at Havana, Cuba, on April 5, 1915, died here last week after surgery at Polyclinic Hospital.

The Johnson-Willard bout remains one of the most controversial title fights in ring annals, with arguments still going on as to whether Jack "took a dive." Johnson took the count in the 26th round of their scheduled 45-rounder lying on his back with his hands over his face as if shielding his eyes from the hot Cuban sun.

Because of the reported eye shielding, rumors arose that Johnson took the "dive." Willard, O'Rourke and Big Jess' followers have always denied the charge. Johnson died several years ago as a result of an automobile accident. Willard is still alive.

IN ANOTHER recent death, Jack (Doc) Kearns, former manager of lightweight champion Archie Moore, died in his sleep last week at the age of 80 after an illness of several months.

Kearns, fabled as the greatest fight manager of all time, also managed seven other world boxing champions.

Colion Chaney

Ezzard won for the title—the two fighters fought three more times breaking even. By the end of their last fight the aging Chaney had dropped almost into oblivion. For the record: Colion Chaney 18, had two draws, and scored 40 had 119 bouts. He won 99, lost knockouts.

On November 16, 1951, he joined the Indianapolis Police Department and was immediately assigned to the P.A.L. Club (Hill Community Center), where he helped organize boxing and a variety of recreational activities.

A great lover of children this kindly, giant of a man is devoutly concerned over the influences organized boxing today has on the younger generation.

"I feel a youngster should know how to defend himself, but by all means he must be properly trained. The fight game today is doing more to tear down a boy's character than it is to build it up. Boxing has become a business. And the fight managers are using these kids as adding machines."

But as a former great boxer, Chaney still has an interest in the big fights. He witnessed the Floyd Patterson Sonny Liston title bout and says he'll probably see the next one on July 22. What about the outcome, we wanted to know.

"Patterson wasn't mentally prepared in that last fight. He was afraid of Liston before he even got in the ring. He didn't have an ounce of confidence in himself. If he can build up the confidence in himself, he can beat Liston. I think Liston is overrated anyway."

As a parting shot, we asked the Comet how he would like being around and getting a crack at Liston. "Man," he laughed, "I'd be more than willing."

The way he said it you get the feeling that both Liston and Patterson are extremely fortunate.

Author Has First Novel Published

NEW YORK (ANP)—Mary Elizabeth Vroman, the first Negro woman to become a member of the Screen Writers' Guild, has had her first novel, entitled "Esther," published by Bantam Books, Inc., simultaneously in the United States and Canada. Called compelling, "Esther" is the novel of a beautiful nurse and life in a small southern hospital. The cover, on one of the most attractive of paperback novels with racial themes, portrays a lovely young woman, a white businesswoman and a handsome Negro doctor.

This is Miss Vroman's first novel. She is well known for her short stories. Miss Vroman is the author of the heart-warming "See How They Run," which became the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer movie, "Bright Road," starring Dorothy Dandridge and Harry Belafonte.

Miss Vroman also authored "And Have Not Charity," a short story, and a "How America Lives" article "Demonstrated Ability" on a Negro U.S. Air Force jet fighter pilot and his family, and a poem for the Ladies Home Journal. She also wrote "Marvin's Just That-A-Way" for the National Education Association Journal.

An honorary member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Miss Vroman has recently written that organization's history, which will be published soon.
